Andover has a new physician, Dr. E. D. Lane, a homeopathic doctor of Lynn, who has opened an office over Whiting's store. Dr. Lane is a graduate of the Boston University School of Medicine and has been practicing for four years in Lynn. He was also for a time connected with the outpatient department of the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital.

The I. W. W. demonstrations in Lawrence this week affected Andover to a greater degree than did the disturbances of last winter. Over fifty Italian employees of the Tye Rubber Company, laborers at work on the new Tye factory, and also at the Joyce residence in process of building, stopped work and joined the Lawrence mob. The Smith & Dove Company was also slightly affected.

The opening meeting of the season of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Free church was held on Thursday afternoon. There was an unusually large attendance and the afternoon was very enjoyable. A group of songs was sung by Miss Ruth Garland, after which afternoon tea was served. The committee in charge was Mrs. Dove, Mrs. Middleton, and Mrs. Riddoch.

DEATH LIST OF FIVE

Liquor May Have Been Responsible For Fatal Fire

Millinocket, Me., Oct. 1.—As the result of what is believed to have been a drunken orgie among some of the laborers employed in the Great Northern paper mill here, five persons, all Poles, are dead.

The victims were: Anton Maranski, aged 45; his wife and two children, a boy aged 4 years and a girl aged 15 months, and Joseph Dense, a boarder. The men were employed in the paper mills.

The Maranski family lived in a small cottage on the outskirts, which early in the morning was discovered in flames.

Soon after the fire two Polish laborers were arrested. They said they had been in the house, but they had left nearly two hours before the fire broke out.

The general opinion appears to be that the fire started from a lamp or stove and the occupants were so soundly asleep that they suffocated.

GUNNER'S MATE SUCCUMBS

Makes Fourth Death Resulting From Explosion on Destroyer Walke

Newport, R. I., Oct. 3.—E. B. Crawford, gunner's mate of the torpedo boat destroyer Patterson, died on the hospital ship Solace from injuries sustained by the explosion of the steam chest and part of the port turbine on the destroyer Walke on Tuesday. Crawford's death was the fourth caused by the accident.

Lieutenant Donald P. Morrison was instantly killed, and of the eight injured J. W. Rumpf and H. L. Wilder died Tuesday night. Both were machinists' mates of the first class.

AVIATION RECEIVES A SEVERE SETBACK

Two Army Lieutenants and a Corporal Meet Death

New York, Sept. 30.—When the last of three aviators died Sunday after having been hurled from their machines while making flights late Saturday, those interested in the sport declared it had received a setback, to recover from which will require a considerable period of time.

Lieutenant J. L. Longstaffe, an English army officer, was cut from a mass of tangled wood, metal and wire, which was all that was left of his machine, after it was plunged seventy-five feet to the ground, just as the lieutenant, accompanied by his mechanic, Pierre Chavellier, started to descend at the Hempstead Plains fields.

The former died without recovering consciousness at a hospital in Minnesota.

Chavellier was thrown clear of the machine in the fall and escaped with severe cuts and bruises.

The two other fatalities were those of Lieutenant Lewis C. Rockwell and Corporal rank Scott of the signal corps, U. S. A., who were flying at the army aviation school, near Washington.

COUNTESS WAS STRANGLED

Coroner's Testimony Results In Gibson Being Held For Grand Jury

Goshen, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Attorney Burton W. Gibson, charged with the murder of Countess Rosa M. Szabo, was held for the grand jury yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Schultze, who performed the autopsy on the body of the countess, was unshaken in his story that the woman's death was caused by strangulation.

WHERE THE CASH IS COMING FROM

Women Work at Night to Finance Roosevelt Campaign.

AWFUL FACTORY CONDITIONS.

New York State Investigating Committee Found Pale, Worn Women Working in Twine Manufacturing Concern Owned by the International Harvester Company.

Awful conditions have been found by the state factory investigating committee of New York in the mills of the Osborne Twine company, No. 3, at Auburn, N. Y., owned by the International Harvester company, of which George W. Perkins, chief financial backer of Theodore Roosevelt in his scheme to ruin the Republican party, is a director.

"The appearance of the women workers in this plant," said a member of the committee, "was very disheartening. They were worn and pale and their clothes, faces and hands were covered with oil and hemp cloth. Many of these women, so called, are only children in age and they have to lug huge piles of hemp, weighing 150 pounds each, across the floor, the load in some cases being bigger than the women themselves. In the spinning room, where women are employed alone, to the exclusion of men, who would have to receive higher wages, the clatter of machinery is so frightful that a voice below a shriek cannot be heard. The rooms are dark, though for no necessary cause, and no attempt is made to remove the dust, which is kept in constant motion by the line shaftings despite the requirements of the law. This dust is breathed continuously by the women, many of whom complain of chronic coughs and colds. The dust and dirt are so thick upon the clothes of the girls that at the noon hour—which in many cases consists of but a few minutes—and at the close of the day's or night's labor, the girls have to sweep each other clean with brooms."

It is further stated that the custom of working the women all night is permanent, married women being selected for night work, their hours being from sundown until 6:30 o'clock in the morning. Of 400 women employed in the mills, 200 work all night.

When George W. Perkins was asked by a New York Times reporter for an explanation of the conditions in an establishment of which he is one of the directors, he made, in part, the following remarkable reply: "This night work has been rendered necessary largely because of the government's perfectly unreasonable attitude toward large corporations, which has made it impossible for managers of large concerns to know whether they were on foot or horseback, whether they could expand their plans to keep up with increasing demands or not."

The late Mark Twain in his brightest moments never uttered anything more grimly humorous than the foregoing explanation by George W. Perkins of why the company of which he is a director is working women all night under the frightful conditions disclosed by the New York state factory investigating committee.

Meantime it ought to be of interest to millions of Republicans throughout the United States to know where the money comes from to finance Theodore Roosevelt in his campaign of "rule or ruin."

BOUGHT HIS SOCKS IN SCOTLAND.

Governor Wilson is a free trader and is so recognized by the rank and file of his party. The truth is emphasized a little by the fact that he buys his socks in Scotland.

His apparent indifference to the condition of American laborers may be due to his ability to get along without being obliged to eat bread in the sweat of his brow.

He has been extremely fortunate in this respect. His auto-craze has been deeply tinged with aristocracy during his entire career as an educator and dabbler in literature.

He has neither by personal experience or observation acquainted himself with the actual struggles and needs of the ordinary wage earner.

During the trying times that this country was under the blight of free trade in 1894, '95 and '96, Woodrow Wilson was enjoying a liberal income that was in no degree affected by the deplorable conditions surrounding the laborers in this country.

Mr. Wilson is not to be condemned for his good fortune. On the contrary, we should be disposed to congratulate him, but in self interest the less fortunate should protect themselves against the enforcement of his tariff theories and policy, a trial of which has been given more than once with deplorable effect upon the industrial life of this country.—Trenton Gazette.

BOWLING

Hillside Alley Notes

The members of the Hillside bowling league held their first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening at the Hillside House, Joseph McCarthy presiding. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand from last season. The league will consist of six clubs this season, viz: Office, New Mill, Flax Department, Old Mill, Machine Shop and Bleach House. The captains of these teams are requested to send in the names of their players as early as possible to Joseph McCarthy. Roy Bradford, Geo. D. Lawson, Harry Sellers and Joseph McCarthy were appointed as governing board and will draw up a schedule of games for the season.

Team A Wins

The first game of the season was rolled off on the Hillside alleys on Tuesday between Teams A and B. Nicoll of B was high roller, getting 117 in single string and 289 in three-string total. McCrory was second with 275 for three-string total. Team A won by 1529 to 1513.

The summary:

	TEAM A		TEAM B
Lawson	76	78	82
McDonald	74	90	88

Bowling League Formed

Interest in bowling in Andover and vicinity has been stimulated this week by the formation of the Inter-City and Association leagues, and the opening of their schedules. The Inter-City league is made up of the Essex street teams of this town, the Lowway, Majestic, Broadway and Bay State teams of Lawrence, and the Websters of Haverhill.

The Association league includes the Wardens, Delanos, Wholleys, Behrs and Websters.

The opening game for the Andover team was played last night on the Essex street alleys with the Majestics.

SOCCER FOOTBALL

Andover and Lawrence met in a district league game on the local grounds last Saturday afternoon before a large crowd of spectators who saw an exhibition of mixed football, good and bad at times. Lawrence presented a very much different lineup than that which won the league championship for two seasons, and was well beaten at the close by three goals to none. Andover was never in difficulty of winning. In fact but for the brilliant goal-keeping of Rennie of the Lawrence team, a youth of sixteen years, and the very poor shooting of the Andover forwards, particularly Willie Deyermund who evidently had an off day, the score would have been much larger. Andover outplayed Lawrence except for a few minutes at the start and scored twice in the first half, both from the foot of Page, who all through was conspicuous with his fine playing. The second half was more completely in Andover's favor than the first, but the local team only managed to score one, from a beautiful corner cross by Deyermund. There was considerable foul playing and Referee Scholfield in penalizing it was particularly severe on one of Andover's players, who in more than one instance was not the aggressor.

The outstanding features were the brilliant goal-keeping of young Rennie, the halfback playing of Bob Deyermund and the forward work of Weston and Rhodes of the visitors, and the heady playing of Ross, the all-round work of Stirling, Downs, Doig and Page of the home team.

The lineup:
ANDOVER: g. Rennie, lb. Turton, Ross, lb. Ashworth, lb. Walker, lb. Devermond, lb. Allen, lb. Doherty, lb. rif. Rhodes, Doig, cf. cf. McAuley, Page, rif. lb. Shaw, Deyermund, rif. lb. Heys.
Score, Andover 3, Lawrence 0. Time, 45-minute halves. Referee, James Scholfield.

Other results were as follows: Manchester United 6, Buntings 0. Light Blues 3, Clans 2.

Olympics 3, So. Lawrence 0. The following games will be played tomorrow: Methuen v. Andover, at Methuen. So. Lawrence v. Buntings, at Lawrence Riding Park. Manchester United v. Light Blues, at Manchester. Clans v. Lawrence at Glen Forest.

Thistles Defeated

The Andover Thistles travelled to Lowell last Saturday to play the No. Chelmsford A. C. Chelmsford, winning the toss, got the strong breeze in their favor and after fifteen minutes scored from a nice pass from Rudkin. The Thistles braced up and a nice pass from Campbell resulted in Carnathan scoring. This put both teams on their mettle, but the home team scored twice, the first half ending, North Chelmsford 3, Thistles 1. Both teams scored once in the second half, the game ending, North Chelmsford 4 goals, Thistles 2.

At a meeting of the Uniteds Monday evening, the league delegate reported that the protest of Andover vs. Light Blues was left over for consideration until the next meeting. The use of the field was granted Clan Johnston for Columbus Day. The club refused to grant Elliott a transfer to the Lawrence Olympic team.

The Legend of the Niger

There is a curious legend connected with the source of the Niger. Tradition says that a devil lives inside the rock whence the river springs. The natives are very superstitious and greatly fear this demon, who is supposed to kill any individual who dares to look at the source. Hence, when showing a stranger the spot, they cover up their face and walk backwards in the direction of the source, pointing towards it with outstretched hand behind the back—Wide World Magazine.

SULZER HEADS THE TICKET

Nominated For Governor by Democrats of Empire State

HE WINS ON FOURTH BALLOT

Chairman Parker Answers Criticisms—Says Action of New York Delegates to Baltimore Convention Was Dictated by Desire to Promote Harmony—Objects of Bryan's Attack

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Congressman Sulzer was nominated for governor on the fourth ballot this morning by the state Democratic convention after an all night session.

Alton B. Parker took the opportunity afforded by his speech yesterday as permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention to answer his critics at the Baltimore convention. It was the first political speech the former presidential candidate had made since he was the storm center of the battle waged at Baltimore by William J. Bryan against his selection as temporary chairman of that gathering.

In defending himself he also defended the New York state delegation, which with him was the object of Bryan's most fervid attacks.

Judge Parker told the state convention that the action of the New York delegates was dictated by the desire to promote harmony.

"You may ask me," he said, "why did the New York delegation with ninety men, at least twenty-five of whom were capable of entering upon that platform, fail to discuss the attack which was made indirectly and directly upon the delegates and upon myself—why did they keep silent?"

"I will give you the answer, my fellow Democrats—because we believed it was better that we should suffer a little indignity than by entering into a dispute with the gentleman upon the platform (Bryan) we should divide that convention in two, and we held our peace."

"We held our peace for the good of Democracy; we held our peace believing that either Clark or Wilson would be nominated, and we determined that New York state should take no part in that contest which would prevent the people of the United States from uniting all together to elect whichever one of them should be the nominee of the party."

Judge Parker's defense was called forth by the opposition to his candidacy for the permanent chairmanship expressed by delegates Frank H. Mott of Jamestown and John K. Sague of Poughkeepsie.

Parker was chosen chairman, 412 to 35, most of the opposing votes being cast by those delegates identified with the organized movements against Charles F. Murphy and Tammany Hall.

The first words of Judge Parker's speech were "I am a Progressive Democrat. It is true that there was a suggestion at Baltimore that I was put forward to represent one Thomas F. Ryan of New York."

Judge Parker emphatically denied that Ryan ever was his client or had paid him any money.

NEW YORK CHOICE

Republican's Select Job Hedges For Gubernatorial Candidate

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Job E. Hedges, New York attorney and noted Republican orator, was named by the Republican state convention as its candidate for governor. This action followed three futile ballots in which Hedges and James W. Wadsworth fought for supremacy with a dozen other candidates receiving well scattered support.

James W. Wadsworth, Jr. of Genesee, former speaker of the assembly, was unanimously nominated for lieutenant governor.

Senator Newcomb quietly told his friends that inasmuch as Strauss, the Progressive nominee, had announced his belief in the initiative, the referendum and the recall, issues which the Republican platform does not declare for, he would not place Strauss' name before the convention.

FLETCHER IS ELECTED

Entire Republican Ticket Favored by Vermont Legislature

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 3.—The entire Republican state ticket, headed by Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish for governor, was elected by the Vermont state legislature. The ticket had failed to get a majority vote in the second time in Vermont's history the election was thrown into the legislature. The choice was made on the first ballot. Fletcher received 169, Harlan B. Howe, Democrat, 76, and Fraser Metzger, Progressive, 32.

The remainder of the ticket chosen was:

Lieutenant governor—Frank Howe, Bennington.

Secretary of state—Gty Bailey, Burlington.

AT SAGAMORE HILL

Roosevelt Having Brief Respite From Political Activities

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Home at Sagamore Hill, after his long western and southern trip, Theodore Roosevelt will spend a few hours with his family before resuming campaign activities. The colonel reached Oyster Bay early last night, travelling by automobile from New York, where he left the train that had brought him north.

He was in good spirits and said he was feeling well. He denied himself to visitors and planned to remain in quiet until tonight, when he will return to New York for a campaign conference.

BIG CORPORATIONS WERE VERY LIBERAL

Contributed Vast Sums to Aid
Roosevelt in 1904

Washington, Oct. 3.—George R. Sheldon, former treasurer of the Republican national committee, made startling revelations as to the campaign of 1904 while he was testifying before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions.

In response to sharp questioning, he admitted that the Standard Oil company contributed $100,000 to the campaign that year under the name of John D. Archbald; that J. P. Morgan gave $100,000; George J. Gould, $100,000, and Henry C. Frick $100,000. These four contributions totalling $400,000.

These contributions were made to the Republican campaign fund and were used to further the election of Theodore Roosevelt, who was the Republican presidential candidate in 1904.

Mr. Sheldon expressed his belief that the corporations contributed 73 1/2 percent of the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904.

One million, eight hundred thousand dollars was the approximate amount mentioned by Sheldon as the total of the 1904 contributions.

M'ANIGAL PLEADS GUILTY

Batch of Men on Trial in the Dynamite Conspiracy Case

Indianapolis, Oct. 2.—Forty-six alleged participants in a conspiracy to illegally transport dynamite in organized labor's warfare on open shop contractors were called for trial in the United States district court here.

The defendants were those left after the preliminary sifting out of the cases of the fifty-four men indicted by a federal grand jury here in February. Two men, the McNamara brothers, now serving sentences in California, were marked on the records "not found."

At the outset Ofie E. McManigal pleaded guilty. Eugene A. Clancy and Olaf A. Tivietmoe of San Francisco pleaded not guilty. All the other defendants at their arraignment last March had pleaded not guilty.

LARGE BEQUEST LOST TO HIM

Fortune of $400,000 Slipped
Away from Prodigal Son

HAD RUN AWAY FROM HOME

Legally Declared Dead After Efforts to Locate Him in America Had Failed—Meets Brother in Boston After Separation of Twenty Years and Is Urged to Return to Old Home

Boston, Oct. 2.—The story of the dramatic meeting of two brothers—one a prodigal who had been legally declared dead and so had lost a $400,000 bequest—the other a stay-at-home, who had shared in the partition of his brother's fortune—in connection with the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce in Boston, has just been revealed.

John C. Beck, a bookkeeper at the Tremont hotel in Providence, is the prodigal who lost the fortune. F. Faithful Begg, delegate from London to the Commerce congress, is the stay-at-home.

Of interest in view of the Russell case, this stay-at-home brother, after five minutes' talk, accepted the man he had not seen for twenty years as his brother and urged him to come home and accept his share of the fortune.

"It took me just five minutes to convince him who I was," says Beck.

Twenty years ago, when a youth of 19, Beck ran away from the home of his father in Edinburgh. He came to the United States, made a precarious living for a time, joined a cheap theatrical troupe, and toured the country, finally landing in Providence, where he secured employment at the Tremont house.

He was known there as John C. Beck, although his name in Scotland had been Begg. Reading the accounts of the Commerce congress he saw the name of F. Faithful Begg, a delegate from London.

Beck came at once to Boston. He hurried to the Copley-Plaza and located F. Faithful Begg. He introduced himself. Five minutes' talk convinced each that they were brothers.

F. Faithful Begg is a member of the London Stock Exchange and the London Chamber of Commerce. He told the Providence man the family news of a fifth of a century, and Beck learned for the first time that a bequest of $400,000 to him had been partitioned among his brothers and sisters, after all efforts to locate him in America had failed, and he had been legally declared dead.

The brothers and sisters include William Begg, an Australian member of parliament; Charles, a physician, at Bath, Eng.; Elizabeth, an unmarried sister living in London, and F. Faithful Begg.

IS BLOWN TO ATOMS

Farmer Uses Dynamite on Self After Shooting His Wife

West Pelham, Mass., Oct. 2.—George Shaw, a prosperous farmer and lumberman of this town, enacted a fiendish retribution for the alleged desertion of his wife in January, 1911, when he filled her full of bullets in the doorway of a neighbor's house, near his home, and then blew himself to pieces by sitting on several sticks of dynamite placed in a stump.

The man in his maniacal frenzy was so thorough in his attack on his wife that, not content with emptying the contents of a revolver into her, he jumped on her and beat her with his fists and with the butt of his revolver until she was insensible. The woman is believed to be beyond hope of recovery. Nothing remains of Shaw but a few scattered shreds of flesh and bones and remnants of his clothing.

Shaw was about 50 years old and his wife about five years his junior.

FAMOUS AUTO RACER HURLED FROM CAR

Bruce-Brown Killed and Mechanician Fatally Hurt

Milwaukee, Oct. 2.—David Bruce-Brown, a wealthy young New York sportsman, and one of the best known auto racers, lost his life, and his mechanician, Tony Scudalari, was fatally injured in an accident on the new Wauwatosa automobile road course on the eve of the eighth running of the Vanderbilt cup race.

Bruce-Brown was driving his high-powered Fiat car 90 miles an hour when a rear left tire blew out. The heavy car swerved into a ditch and a second later men and machine were hurled from it diagonally across the road and into a field. The big racer was converted into a tangled heap of wreckage.

Bruce-Brown's skull was fractured, his left leg was broken and he suffered internal injuries. The top of Scudalari's skull was crushed, his right arm was broken and his body was seriously torn.

TEN CHILDREN PERISH

Father and Mother Unable to Aid Them as They Burn to Death

St. Bernard, Que., Oct. 3.—Ten children were burned to death in a fire here. They were the sons and daughters, ranging in age from 18 months to 15 years, of Alexander Gravel.

Gravel and his wife left their home and upon returning found it in flames. They were unable to aid the children, whose deaths they witnessed. It is thought that an overturned lamp started the fire.

DE PALMA WINS CUP RACE

Tetiaff, After Setting the Pace, Meets Trouble and Withdraws

Milwaukee, Oct. 3.—Ralph De Palma, driving a Mercedes car, won the eighth Vanderbilt automobile cup race here. Hughes in a Mercer was second. De Palma's time for the 299 miles was 260:31:54.

Tetiaff, after leading 25 laps, a distance of 197 miles, met with trouble and was forced to withdraw.

Cause and Effect

Last Friday evening a clergyman appeared on the Andover platform and set forth what he claimed to be the principles of the new political party which will ask support from the voters of Andover in the election next month. It is assumed that he is a representative of the people for whom he spoke, and from the fact that he has for many weeks published almost daily communications in a Boston newspaper setting forth his peculiar notions about social conditions with special reference to the Lawrence strike, it is assumed that he represents in other matters as well this peculiar bunch of people for whom he spoke last Friday.

Following his address in the Andover Town Hall came the events of Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Lawrence, in which blood was shed, in which disturbance and outbreak were the prominent factors to disturb the peace and quiet of our neighboring city. Monday, before the Ministers' Association in Boston, the same minister who appeared on the Andover platform, addressed the Congressional ministers of Massachusetts in a defense of the chief leader of the people who created the Lawrence disturbance on the three days mentioned. It is not to be assumed that a man who writes daily letters to the newspapers and who preaches daily texts to political "a-gin-ers" was without information upon the chief topic of his daily discussion. Hence when Mr. Van der Pyl addressed the Congregational ministers in Boston he must have known the character of their disturbance on Sunday and understood what the church bells of Lawrence and the church bells of New England signify to the rabble in whose defense his life seems to be just now devoted.

On Sunday, heading the parade of the I. W. W. were many different banners and one flag. "One flag" has meant a great deal to the people of Massachusetts for many years; "one flag" led the great bulk of New England citizens fifty years ago to forsake toil and industry of all kinds and go, many of them to their graves, and all of them willingly to sacrifice for the country for which that flag stood. The one flag in the Lawrence parade was the red flag which meant, we presume, and everybody believes it meant, exactly what the dominant motto of that same parade meant, which in big letters said, "No God, No Master." And yet the next day, before this same body of ministers to whom he has been giving wise admonition because "he is the son of an immigrant," Mr. Van der Pyl declared:

"The red flag carried by the strikers in Lawrence is not an emblem of anarchy, anti-patriotism or revolution; it is the symbol of the red blood that flows through the veins of human beings, whose desire is to be treated like human beings."

The writer of this column has declared before this that it is a sure step from the preaching of the particular party whose leader has spread anarchy ever since he began his rebellious march through the United States, to the mob that makes up the alien citizenship, fighting for nothing but the pleasure of row, disorder, and anarchy. And Mr. Van der Pyl links, in the most unmistakable manner, the movement headed by the ex-president of the United States with the movement headed by the mobs in the streets of Lawrence who marched under the leadership of a red flag and a legend, "No God, No Master." We leave this sort of doctrine to the kind of people who cannot appreciate what strides are making because of this present agitation, to lead the people away from the church and all its influences which the ministers "who make up the majority of the leaders in the present movement for progressive politics in the country" are supposed to stand for.

The country never needed as it needs today honest convictions set forth by honest men to bring about honest improvement in the industrial, social and economic life of the country, and because of that need it has never had as it has today such an epidemic of fakirs and demagogues to attempt to get into power again on the discontent that honestly exists and that demands honest relief. There are not fifty men in Andover who wouldn't welcome legitimate, high-minded, patriotic leadership that would offer a solution to the terrible problems of increased cost of living, of social unrest, of political and economic discord, which the times seriously demand. But when the great bulk of the people in this community, as everywhere else, sees that the leadership which is taking advantage of this situation is made up almost entirely of the discontented and theoretical reformers, as well as in many cases the discredited elements which have been dropped out of both other parties, it is not surprising that the best citizenship of the state and nation rebels.

Kicking at the Pricks

We like to be in harmony with our brothers of the Massachusetts press wherever it is possible, but upon the question of the resolution they have proposed about the recent law calling for publicity about newspapers, we are afraid we cannot get into line. The Press Association considers it a serious interference on the part of the government for the government to inquire into the personnel of the ownership, management and control of the newspapers of the country.

While we have very grave doubts about the constitutionality of such a law as has been passed, we don't know what harm it is going to do and can see considerable good.

The whole trend of the present time is to discover "the man behind." What influence is there that dominates any particular idea or opinion which is made an issue by some newspaper great or small? Who is going to have personal benefit from it? What is the "cat in the meal?" The public is asking these questions about practically everything, and we see no reason why they shouldn't ask them about the newspapers, many of which are the vilest offenders in the line of their influence upon public questions. The legitimate, straight, clean, honest newspaper has nothing to fear from that sort of information even if it were made public. The illegitimate yellow sheet living upon blackmail, or serving a particular individual's needs ought to be uncovered, and this part of the law seems to us wise and timely.

Many other features of postoffice regulations, and new laws affecting publications, are far from meeting with the approval of even the honest newspaper men, and we doubt if some of the features which are making it practically impossible for any form of publicity without law-breaking, can ever be enforced. The whole trend for any legal control over the newspaper press should have but one purpose in view, and that purpose honest publicity worked out by honest men who honestly serve the best interests of the community in which the newspaper is published.

School Committee Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the School Committee was held on Tuesday, and aside from the routine business, several matters of importance were discussed.

The chief of these was the question of transportation of pupils and the increasing cost to the town from year to year. Beginning with the transporting of the children attending the Holt school to Centre schools when the former school was closed a number of years ago, the cost has increased until $2500 a year has been reached. The committee believes that the whole system needs a general revision, and after discussion, a special committee was appointed to consider the matter and report at a future meeting. It is not expected that any radical change will be made until the beginning of the next school year.

The question of grading the grounds of the Centre schools and constructing a driveway for heavy teaming over the school grounds was considered, because of a communication from the residents of Whittier court protesting against the use of the roadway in front of their residences for the school authorities for teaming coal and other supplies for the schools. It is highly probable that in the next school budget an appropriation will be asked for to grade the grounds of the schools in conformity with the work done at the playground and park.

The equipping of the schools with playground appliances for the younger children was deferred until next spring.

The board confirmed the election of Miss Eleanor Irving as teacher at Indian Ridge school and of Miss Helen Hardy as assistant at the North School, and elected Alfred Melanson janitor of the Bailey school.

The following bills were approved for payment:

Schools	$4,342.40
Schoolhouses	782.70
Books and Supplies	419.21
	$4,544.31

Annual Meeting of Baptist Church

Following a short prayer meeting, the annual business meeting of the Baptist church was held Wednesday evening, October 2.

Reports of committees were read, and the officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

Thievery at Phillips Academy

The gymnasium of Phillips Academy was visited by a thief or thieves on Wednesday afternoon of this week between 2:30 and 4 o'clock, and several watches, together with other articles and money belonging to nearly a dozen of the students, were stolen.

The articles were in lockers in the gymnasium, and were taken while their owners were at class. The list comprises six watches, $52 in bills, a pair of cuff buttons and a Waterman fountain pen.

The police are at work on the case.

FREIGHT SERVICE IMPROVED

Boston & Maine Plans Extensive Changes in Track and Freight Facilities at Local Station

Local business men and other citizens of the town, who have been impressed during the past few years with the necessity of a betterment in freight service on the Boston and Maine road, are strongly in approval of the work which has been commenced by the road, of increasing the size and capacity of the freight yard, and of arranging for greater facility in handling freight for both public and private delivery.

The new yard will occupy the ground where the old Free church formerly stood and the open field to the south of it.

Four new delivery tracks will be laid, one of which will connect with the coal pocket of the new Tye factory, and be used entirely for the business of the company. The three remaining tracks will be used for public delivery.

Several changes and improvements in the freight-house are contemplated, but whether they will be carried out is uncertain.

A force of laborers and surveyors are now at work on the yard, and it is expected that the tracks will be ready for use in two or three weeks' time.

The increased facilities will meet a pressing need, as the handling and delivery of freight has been seriously hampered for several years by lack of track room. Since the commencement of work on the new Tye factory, conditions have been still worse, until it was seen that some immediate action and relief was necessary.

ObituaryMRS. LYDIA A. CUMMINGS

Mrs. Lydia Augusta (Sawyer) Cummings, widow of the late Aaron Cummings, passed to her reward at the family residence on Phillips street, September 28, at the age of 72 years and 12 days.

Mrs. Cummings was born in Methuen, Mass., in 1840. After the death of her father, Asa Sawyer, her mother removed to Andover and later married Henry Gray. Mrs. Cummings went to Iowa in 1855 and attended Denmark Academy, living at that time with her grandmother. She joined the church in Denmark at the age of sixteen and after her return to Andover united with the South church by letter in March, 1865. In 1866 she married Aaron Cummings, who died in March, 1909. Besides three children, Misses Lois M. and Florence L. Cummings, of town and Rev. Arthur G. Cummings, pastor of the First Congregational church, Middleboro, Mass., she leaves two sisters, Miss Sarah L. Sawyer and Miss Alice Gray, to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Cummings was a mother in the truest sense of the word. Her quiet, retiring nature, pure faith and love of all things good and holy, her interest in her home and friends, her wonderful intellect and retentive memory could be nothing but an inspiration to those about her. She was patient in her sufferings and during the last few days the following verse kept coming to her lips:

"My shepherd will supply my need, Jehovah is his name."

In pasture fresh he makes me feed,

Beside the living stream.

The funeral services, held at the home Tuesday afternoon, October 1, at two o'clock, were conducted by Rev. F. R. Shipman, pastor of the South church. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were Messrs. W. K. Moorehead, Bartlett H. Hayes, Jonathan E. Holt and Charles J. Francis. Interment was in the family lot in Spring Grove cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Byrne

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Byrne, who died last week, was held on Saturday, September 28, from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Cunningham, of Highland road.

Mrs. Byrne passed away on Wednesday, September 25, after an illness of some duration. She was sixty-four years of age. For some time past she had made her home with her daughter.

Burial was in the Immaculate Conception cemetery, Lawrence.

Picnic at Martin's Pond

Though the weather was dull and threatening there was nothing dull or depressing in the spirits of the party. Who that partook of it can forget the delicious chowder and the basket lunch prepared by some of Andover's most expert cooks?

The after dinner jollity, with old-time songs and vigorous discussion of the political situation and of woman's suffrage, with a straw vote for the favorite presidential candidates, counteracted any possible ill effect from too free indulgence in the bountiful dinner. If this picnic party settles the election, President Taft is sure of a second term in the White House.

The chief regret of the day was the infrequency of such occasions of good cheer and fellowship.

Civic League Meeting

The Christian Civic League of Andover will hold its fall meeting on Sunday evening, October 6, in the Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by Judge C. U. Bell and Hon. Harry M. Eames of the selectmen on the Problem of Local Law Enforcement.

Birth

In New Haven, Conn., Wednesday, October 2, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. William N. Lindsay, formerly of Andover.

In Andover, Tuesday, October 1, 1912, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Platt.

WeddingDODGE-ANDERSON

A pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson of Chestnut street, when their only daughter, Margaret Baird Anderson, was married to Theodore Leonard Dodge of Riverdale, N. H. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. A. Wilson, the double ring service being used, and was witnessed by about eighty guests.

The bridal party took their places in the parlor which had been prettily decorated by Geo. Millet, under an arch of orange and green, the bride's college and high school colors, as Lohengrin's march was played by Miss Bertha Abercrombie of Lawrence.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of ivory charmeuse, trimmed with old thread lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her veil of tulle was fastened with sprays of lilies. The matron of honor was Mrs. George Littlefield of Malden, who wore yellow crepe de chine and carried yellow Killarney roses.

The groom was attended by Leonard E. Pierce of Goffstown, N. H. The ushers were James G. Anderson, brother of the bride; Stuart Clark of Dorchester, brother-in-law of the groom; and Frederick Cheever and C. Douglas Lindsay of this town.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which guests were present from Andover, Dorchester, Boston, Somerville, Natick, Goffstown, N. H., Riverdale, N. H., and Manchester, N. H. Refreshments were served by Caterer Rhodes.

Later in the evening the newly married couple left in an automobile for Boston. After a short trip to Maine they will reside in Riverdale, where Mr. Dodge is in business.

The bride is well known in Andover, having attended the local schools and graduated from Pynchard in 1901. Four years later she graduated from Mt. Holyoke, after which she taught school for two years in Goffstown, N. H., and five years in Dalton, Mass.

The young couple were well remembered by their friends, as the profusion of wedding gifts showed.

STAFFORD-CRAVEN

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Taylor, Stevens street, Methuen, Wednesday, October 2, at 7:30 p.m. The contracting parties were Miss Alice M. Craven of Gardner street, Lawrence, and Geo. Stafford of Lowell street, Andover. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur W. Moulton, rector of Grace church, Lawrence, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. Miss Isabelle Peters, niece of the groom, played a beautiful wedding march previous to the marriage. After the reception the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip. They will reside on Oakland avenue, Methuen, and will be at home after November 1. They received many useful and beautiful presents.

Surprise Party

Among those present were Misses Annie Walker, Eva Hume, Nellie Downs, Olive Wilkinson, Martha McManus, Jane McShane, Kate McShane, Jennie Addley, May Graham, Mary Caldwell, Myrtis McDermitt, Bella Cairnie, Bessie Frazer, Clara Bentley, Bella McIntosh, Nellie Low, Annie Winters, Jessie Haddon; Mr. and Mrs. F. McBride, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Stirling, P. Doherty, W. Deyermund, W. Rennie, W. Rae, D. Page, J. McArdle, P. Stewart, A. Anderson, A. Soutar, D. McEwan, P. Hughes, C. Rennie, W. Hyde, A. Stewart, J. Cairnie, C. Fettes, W. Pert, H. Ross, E. Downs, J. Golden, W. McKenzie, J. Deyermund, A. Carnathan, C. Low, G. Nicoll, F. Nicoll, J. Caldwell and J. Addley.

Enjoyable Birthday Celebration

Many friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McGraw of Walnut avenue on Monday evening on the occasion of their son William's twenty-first birthday. He received many handsome gifts from his friends and the members of Andover lodge, I. O. G. T.

A most enjoyable evening was spent by all. Piano selections were furnished by Miss Myrtis McDermitt. Refreshments were served during the evening and the party broke up about midnight.

Among those present were Misses Lizzie Doherty, Mary McFarlane, Marion McGraw, Nancy Caldwell, Jennette Caldwell, Helen McFarlane, Agnes Doherty, Mary McGraw, Minnie Caldwell, Margaret McFarlane, Annie McGrath, Myrtis McDermitt, Susan McGrath, James Caldwell, William McGraw, John Deyermund, Henry Dea, William McDermitt, Alfred Lundgren, Robert Deyermund, Herbert Ford, Joseph Mungo.

Andover Mothers' Club

A fair and entertainment will be held in Punched hall Friday evening, October 11, under the auspices of the Andover Mothers' club. The doors will be open at seven o'clock to give opportunity to purchase many useful and fancy articles before the entertainment at eight o'clock. Fancy and kitchen aprons of all sizes and patterns, children's flannel shirts, boys' blouses, home-made cake and candy, and ice cream will be for sale. As October 12 is a holiday, Columbus Day, Friday evening, the 11th, will be a splendid opportunity to prepare for Saturday and Sunday by buying some of the cake for which the mothers of the club are noted.

The girls of the Summer School will repeat the interesting Indian and folk dances given at the closing exercises of the school. It will be pleasant for many who were away or unable to be present at that time to see this phase of the summer work.

C. E. Union Meeting

A regular meeting of the Andover Christian Endeavor Union was held with the Free church society last Friday evening.

There was a good attendance from the West, South, Free, Baptist and North Andover societies, the former having the largest percentage of its membership present and thus winning the banner for another quarter.

After the usual routine business of the union had been transacted, two very interesting reports from the Sagamore convention were given by Mrs. Irving Shaw and Mrs. George Miller of Ballardvale.

The evening was concluded with a social arranged for by the Free church society.

Phillips Academy Notes

The enrolment at Phillips Academy shows that students are enrolled from thirty-five states and six foreign countries.

An interesting program of organ recitals has been arranged for the winter by the new musical instructor, Mr. Pfaffteicher.

A meeting of the Dartmouth club of Andover was held in the Archaeology Building on Wednesday evening. The soccer season was opened last Saturday when 1914 defeated 1915, 7 to 0.

Rev. James Austin Richards spoke in a very interesting manner before the Society of Inquiry on Sunday evening.

New P. A. Exchange Teacher

The new Prussian exchange teacher at Phillips Academy is Dr. Max Muller, who comes from Magdeburg. He studied at the University of Göttingen, Munich and Strassburg, taking his doctor's degree at the latter. He served in the German infantry at Strassburg, and has made extensive travels in France and England. For the last six months he has been teaching in Thorn, in the extreme eastern part of Prussia near the boundary of Poland. Dr. Muller came to this country but a few days ago and has been seeing New York. His conversation classes will start next week.

"BULL MOOSE" RALLY

Roosevelt Supporters Met in Town Hall Friday Night. Andover Progressive Party Organized

About seventy-five persons gathered in the town hall on Friday evening to attend the rally held under the auspices of the Roosevelt Club of Andover, and with the idea of forming an Andover Progressive Party.

The meeting was presided over by William Odlin, who on opening the rally, told of the organization of the Roosevelt Club, and its aims and purposes. He then introduced the first speaker, Mrs. Lewis J. Johnson of Cambridge, one of the women delegates from Massachusetts to the Progressive Convention in Chicago. Mrs. Johnson was full of enthusiasm for the new party and its candidate, and described at length her experiences as a delegate and the proceedings of the convention. She said that the spirit of the convention was that of a Crusade, that all was courage and inspiration to carry out the purposes and ideals of the new party. The real idea of the party and convention was that the people must rule, that there must be freedom from bosses, industrial rule, etc., and that everything must be controlled by the people. She spoke of Jane Addams's speech in seconding the nomination of Col. Roosevelt, and paid tribute to the wonderful influence she and other prominent women there exerted over the convention; of the magnetism of the ex-president and the welcome he met with from the 16,000 people who were present.

After a general account of the proceedings of the convention, and especially the part played by the women delegates, Mrs. Johnson began to take up various planks in the Progressive platform, such as the initiative, the referendum, and the recall, the minimum wage law, the conservation of natural resources, purer milk and food laws, better sanitation, etc., treating them especially from the point of view of woman suffrage, and endeavoring to point out that with the franchise for women would come these much-needed reforms. She spoke of the labor agitation which is universal throughout the country today, and urged the recognition of humanity above property. She closed with an appeal for woman suffrage, and a wider recognition of woman as the equal of man.

During the interim following Mrs. Johnson's address, Mr. Odlin explained the desire of the Roosevelt supporters in town to form a Progressive party, and requested that blanks which had previously been given out in the audience be signed by any who wished to become affiliated with the movement. Messrs. Stone, Allen and Barnes collected the slips, and also a money contribution which was asked for by the chairman.

Rev. Nicholas Van der Pyl, the second speaker, was then introduced. Mr. Van der Pyl is a well known Congregational minister of Haverhill, whose frequently published articles on live questions of the day are widely read. He began by saying that the Progressive party is arrayed against special privilege and monopoly, that it meets the needs and desires of a great number of the thinking men and women of today, who are not satisfied with the work of the other two great parties. Its ranks include the larger majority of clergymen, writers, scholars, reformers, etc., who realize the need of the country to escape from its present condition, and pay more attention to the men and women and children who constitute the nation. He touched upon the labor troubles in Lawrence and said that in his opinion, as the child of an immigrant, and well versed in their ways of life, and their thoughts and purposes, the mill owners would not be in their present position if they had spent one-half the time they have devoted to the building up of our great industrial systems and the development of wealth, to looking after the welfare of the immigrants and treating them as human beings instead of chattels.

As regarding the Progressive candidate, Mr. Van der Pyl said that it is unfortunate that there is no other man in the country that could have taken up the standard of the party and carried it forward but Mr. Roosevelt. He noted that during Mr. Roosevelt's seven and one-half years as president, reforms were put in motion which had to be dropped owing to the fact that there was no one to succeed him in carrying them out. He compared Roosevelt with Cromwell and Luther as being the leaders in the crusade for reforms. The platform of the party he described as "the finest document drawn up since the Massachusetts Bill of Rights," and a platform to which all Progressives were eager to give their most loyal support, not for hope of political office or for material reward, but out of their clear, high convictions.

In closing he expressed himself as heartily in favor of woman suffrage, and as a believer in the equal rights of man and woman.

At the close of the address the chairman called a meeting of the Progressives who were present, and about thirty men and women elected a committee to consist of twenty-five members to control the affairs of the Andover Progressives. This committee was proposed in bulk by B. M. Allen and seconded by C. J. Stone and was given power to act with other Progressive committees representing the congressional and senatorial districts in all matters of common interest. It was also voted to place on sale Roosevelt pins at the price of two cents each, or three for five cents. The meeting adjourned at 9.45 after the chairman had announced that the committee would meet at the home of Bernard M. Allen on the following Tuesday evening.

The committee elected was as follows: Colver J. Stone, Andrew W. Burkholt, William A. Allen, Mrs. George B. Frost, Dr. J. P. Torrey, Reid and Hughes Co.

The Rioting in Lawrence

Lawrence has had a resumption of the strike troubles of last winter during the past few days. Feeling among the I. W. W. operatives in the mills concerning the Ettor-Giovanitti case has been running high, and broke out in a parade and demonstration on Sunday night in Lawrence. The ranks of the operatives of that city were increased by large delegations from Haverhill and other cities.

Police interference was necessary, and resulted in a riot equal to those which occurred last January. Two officers were stabbed, another badly hurt and several others roughly handled. The spirit of rioting continued through the first part of the week, and every day was marked by numerous outbreaks and disturbances.

Operatives, on their way to and from work, especially women operatives, have been subjected to a great deal of annoyance and on several occasions have had to seek police protection. The trial of Ettor, Caruso, and Giovanitti opened in Salem on Monday, and the day was spent in endeavoring to choose a jury. At the close of the day's session, 106 jurors had been examined and only two chosen.

The second and third days proved repetitions of the first, and on Wednesday afternoon the venire of 350 talesmen was exhausted and only four jurors had been secured. An additional venire was issued immediately for another 350 and the trial adjourned until Monday, October 14.

Joint Men's Club Meeting

The members of the Free church Men's club will be the guests this evening of the South church Men's club at the latter's first meeting of the season.

An unusually interesting program has been arranged, and the evening promises to be very enjoyable. Professor Warren K. Moorehead will give an address on "What the government does for the Indians," and readings will be given by Messrs. Thomas David and Frank H. Hardy.

Illustrated Lecture on Panama

Thursday evening, October 10, C. T. Sweeney will lecture on Panama. Mr. Sweeney has made a study of the canal and surroundings and gives a fine illustrated lecture. This should appeal to Andover people. The lecture is to be given in the Chapel church on Andover Hill at 8 o'clock, and is free. The public is invited to attend.

This is the first in a very interesting series which has been planned for this winter. The entire schedule is given below.

Oct. 10. C. F. Sweeney, Subject, "Panama."
Oct. 24. Charles Wellington Furlong; "Fertile Argentina."
Nov. 7. Chas. F. Gammon; "China."
Nov. 21. Ernest Harold Baynes; "Our Wild Animal Neighbors."
Dec. 12. Frederick B. Wright; "Development of Writing and Printing."
Jan. 16, 1913. Rev. William R. Arnold; "Babylonia."
Feb. 6. B. R. Baumgardt; "An Evening with the Stars."
Feb. 20. J. Alden Loring; "Through Africa with Roosevelt."
Mar. 13. C. J. Blanchard; "Development of the West."

More Talesmen for Ettor Case

Hollis St.—"Coming Home to Roost."

MAJESTIC

The music is the chief feature of "The June Bride" at the Majestic. The piece is highly entertaining and well cast. Next week the attraction will be "Little Boy Blue."

SHUBERT

"A Butterfly on the Wheel" began the last week of its engagement at the Shubert Theatre Monday evening. Winona Shannon portrays Peggy, the butterfly wife, and Chas. Quartermaine is insistent and manly as her lover. The impersonation of Lord Ellerdine by Evelyn Beerholm is a feature of the performance.

PARK

Rose Stahl began the fifth week of her engagement in Charles Klein's entertaining play of department store life, "Maggie Pepper," Monday evening. The part provides Miss Stahl with many and varied opportunities as a commedienne, while she receives excellent support from a capable company.

ST. JAMES

Miss Nance O'Neil began the second and last week of her engagement in "Magda" at the St. James theatre on Monday night. This is Miss O'Neil's favorite play and next week she will appear in it in New York.

HOLLIS STREET

"The Talker," a play in three acts, was presented for the first time in Boston at the Hollis Street theatre this week. The piece represents the suburban home of a thrifty, amiable individual and his wife. The latter is an idealist, and the inevitable outcome so far as domestic relations are concerned constitutes the story.

CASTLE SQUARE

"Sherlock Holmes," a four-act drama, is the attraction at Castle Square this week. Mr. Craig gives an excellent impersonation of the great detective, and Mr. Ormonde plays Moriarty very satisfactorily. Next week Wilson Melrose will appear in "The Aviator."

TREMONT

"The Woman Hater's Club" at the Tremont theatre is chiefly attractive by reason of Miss Fisher's charming impersonation, Miss Castle's dancing, and Mr. Kenyon's amusing characterization of the English nobleman. "A Polish Wedding" will begin an engagement of two weeks next Monday. The play is a farce with music.

BOSTON

"Robin Hood," Reginald de Koven's delightful light opera classic, presented with a brilliant star cast, enters into its second week at the Boston theatre, where capacity audiences insist upon frequent repetitions of the never-dying musical gems with which it is replete. The revival of this most famous of American musical productions has proven a stupendous success and the rush of orders for large blocks of seats for theatre parties shows that the more than 10,000 performances in this country alone, of this daintiest of light operas have only whetted the appetite of the public for more of this rare combination of romance and melody. With a grand opera production of this famous operetta at theatre prices the de Koven Company has most auspiciously inaugurated the movement for the perpetuation of American light opera and this has been brought about by the engagement of such artists as Bessie Abbott, Florence Wickham, Walter Hyde, Herbert Waterous, Edwin Stevens, George Frothingham, Carl Gantvoort, Pauline Hall, Anna Busert, Sylvia van Dyck, Louise Le Baron, Philip Sheffield and Misha Ferenz. A more beautiful stage production has never been seen at the Boston theatre. During the limited engagement there will be Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

"The Easiest Way."

"The Bohemian Girl"

With the Aborn Opera company in its revival of "The Bohemian Girl," Miss Claudia Albright, a dramatic mezzo soprano, will be seen in the exacting role of the Gypsy Queen. By many, Miss Albright will be recalled as a member of the Henry W. Savage Opera company, following which, she sang for a season in Bremen, Germany, and then joined the Royal Carl Rosa Opera company in England. Imagine a score of horses racing at top speed up the mountain-side in pursuit of the kidnapping Gypsy chief. This is one of the several sensational features shown in the Aborn Opera company's stupendous spectacular version of "The Bohemian Girl" that will be seen at the Colonial Thursday evening, October 10.

"Mutt and Jeff"

A great attraction is booked for the Colonial theatre Friday night, October 11, when the funniest of all funny musical productions, "Mutt and Jeff" will be the bill. This production has earned much praise in all the big cities in which it has played, and the company includes many stars, who are sure to make a hit here. The production is new and original and has many startling novelties. Several new song hits have been written for the show and the comedy creates a laugh every minute. There will be only one performance, Friday night, October 11.

TAFT DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN ISSUES

IN A NOTABLE INTERVIEW THE PRESIDENT TREATS OF THE TARIFF, TRUSTS, HIGH COST OF LIVING, WOMAN SUFFRAGE, RECALL OF JUDGES, IMMIGRATION AND GOVERNOR WILSON.

PROTECTION RAISES WAGES.

Thinks the Payne Law Has Enabled the American Worker to Meet the Cost of Living and Maintain His Family in Comfort—Every Able-bodied Man Willing to Work Has Work—City Hotels Thronged With Buyers and Farmers Never Better Off—Nothing Can Kill Prosperity but the Benumbing Glacier of Free Trade or a Wave of Anarchy.

President Taft, when in New York, Sept. 24, gave a long interview to the newspapers in which he discussed fully the campaign issues.

This is the interview in part: "Mr. President, have you visited the 'Chamber of Horrors' in Union square, where the burdens upon living under the high tariff are illustrated?"

"No, but a New York friend told me a little incident in regard to it worth remembering. According to the story told me, the exhibition includes a number of articles of clothing tagged with the prices and an alleged statement of what the articles would cost with the tariff duties deducted. I understand that a number of establishments engaged in the manufacture of clothing are situated in the neighborhood, and a workingman, evidently from one of those establishments, strolled at the noon hour into the exhibition. Looking about him, he noticed a coat bearing a price tag, and indicating what the cost of the coat would be without a tariff duty. 'Why,' he remarked, 'that would bring the price of the coat lower than what I get for making one. At that rate where would I come in? It is hardly necessary to say that he would not 'come in' at all, unless willing to work for one-half to one-fifth of his present pay for making a coat.'

"The policy of the Republican party is not to shut out foreign manufactures, but to foster domestic manufactures and to keep the American workman employed. "The tariff should be revised so far as may be necessary to keep prices from being exorbitant, so that, as I have explained in my speech of acceptance, the manufacturer shall secure only enough protection to pay the scale of high wages which obtains and ought to obtain in this country, and secure a reasonable profit. "What do you think, Mr. President, of the proposal of the third term party to control the trusts through federal incorporation and regulation?"

"It would create the most monstrous monopoly of power in the history of the world—a power as much greater, as much more autocratic, than that of a Caesar or a Napoleon, as the business interests of the twentieth century are greater, more dominant and far-reaching than were those of 2,000 or 100 years ago. "The Payne law has had no more to do with advancing the cost of living than the latest Atlantic cable tariff. On the contrary, it has enabled the American worker to meet the cost of living and maintain his family in comfort. "Under the operation of that law prosperity has been gradually restored since the panic of 1907. Practically every able-bodied man who is willing to work has work, and in some of the large industrial centers, as well as in other parts of the country, the demand for labor far exceeds the supply. City hotels have been thronged with buyers from all sections of the Union, who report ready sales and empty shelves, and are eager purchasers of goods to replenish their stores. Farmers were never better off. Every legitimate industry is looking forward to still greater prosperity, provided the nation's progress shall not be halted by the benumbing glacier of free trade or the destructive lava stream of anarchy. "I have not changed in the slightest my view as to the necessity of monetary reform, or of the great value and importance of the work done by the monetary commission, of which former Senator Aldrich was chairman. "It is a reform necessary in the interest of all the people and must be carried through according to some practical and efficient plan that will remedy the gross inadequacy and marked imperfections of our banking and currency system. "There has been no intervention in Nicaragua. Under conditions of anarchy, accompanied by acts of ruthless barbarity, American marines were landed at the request and with the consent of the lawful government of Nicaragua to assist in protecting the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners. There was no invasion, no levying war. Common humanity dictated the course that has been pursued. "What is your attitude, Mr. President, on the woman suffrage question?"

"Suffrage for women is an issue to be decided by the states, and there can be no doubt whatever that whenever and wherever a majority of women impress upon their fathers, their husbands, sons, brothers and beans that they want to vote they will get the right to vote. "Do you regard the recall of judges, Mr. President, as an issue in this campaign?"

"I regard the maintenance of an independent judiciary as a supreme issue, and I thoroughly agree with the American Bar association that the recall applied to judges would tend to deprive the public of judges of ability, character, high sense of duty and a due regard to enlightened public sentiment and that such a judiciary is absolutely necessary to the existence of a constitutional democracy. "What are your views, Mr. President, in regard to immigration?"

"There are both room and opportunity in the United States for immigrants of wholesome physique, industrious habits and good moral character. I hope that when the Panama canal is opened the tide of immigration from Europe will flow through to the Pacific states, which are very sparsely settled in view of their vast extent and magnificent natural resources. "It is reported, Mr. President, that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has sent out circulars to labor unions attacking your administration as hostile to organized labor."

"I have not seen the circulars you mention, but if the statement is correct Mr. Gompers is as much in error as he was four years ago, when he proposed to deliver the whole labor vote to Mr. Bryan. "I appreciate," added Mr. Taft, "Governor Wilson's courteous and respectful personal attitude toward my office and toward me. As to his statement about my being misled by 'bad advisers,' I wish him and every one to understand that I have been and will continue to the end of my term president of the United States in all that the title implies, that I am responsible for every act of my administration and have no burden to shift on to others."

When President Taft was visiting his brother in New York a few days ago the newspaper reporters called upon him. After a pleasant chat the president made a formal statement of his views on the political situation: "When I declared a few weeks ago that I felt reasonably sure of my own re-election in November and the success of the Republican party I was regarded by some as entirely over-optimistic and unaware of the situation. Today, however, after a number of indications that the Republican party is still the dominant party and that the expected growth of Democratic strength has failed to materialize, my early declaration is shown to be entitled to respect. The Republicans necessarily will have a reduced majority over 1908 because of the presence of three tickets in the field, but the Democratic party will suffer also. The combined strength of the third term party will not be enough to change the ultimate result. "Five or six weeks ago it was asserted generally that the Republican party would secure the vote of the solid east, including all of the New England states, with the exception of Maine and Vermont; that the Democratic party would maintain its hold on the solid south and that the third term party would secure the solid west, leaving only the middle west as debatable ground. Today, with the election still one month away, the Republican party finds itself with a strengthened hold on the solid east, having routed the third term party in Vermont and the Democratic party in Maine. The third term leaders recently conceded that we would pick the state of Utah out of the solid west, and, after conferring with Chairman Hillis and others recently in the west, there is every reason to believe that the Republican party will carry Michigan, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming. Moreover, if the proper kind of a campaign is waged, we will carry Oregon, Kansas and Minnesota, where the third term strength has rapidly waned since the recent tour through that section by the party's candidate. "I am not familiar with the developments in other western states, although many good reports have come to me at Beverly concerning them, but even with the states already mentioned it can be seen that there is no longer a solid west back of the new party, but more nearly a solid west reunited in support of the Republican ticket. This strength, added to the indisputable hold on the eastern states, constitutes in itself a sufficient strength to give success to the party. "It is scarcely necessary for me to point to the necessity of re-establishing a Republican majority in the house of representatives. If this is done I feel confident that I will be able to have placed on the statute books the workmen's compensation law which I urged upon the last session, but which was sent to oblivion by the Democratic house. If the country will give the Republican party a complete victory in its congressional as well as its presidential ticket a proper tariff revision will be speedily effected, with knowledge of the facts ascertained by a tariff commission, which will harm no one and remove its present defects."

"What is your attitude, Mr. President, on the woman suffrage question?"

"Suffrage for women is an issue to be decided by the states, and there can be no doubt whatever that whenever and wherever a majority of women impress upon their fathers, their husbands, sons, brothers and beans that they want to vote they will get the right to vote. "Do you regard the recall of judges, Mr. President, as an issue in this campaign?"

Moreover, if the proper kind of a campaign is waged, we will carry Oregon, Kansas and Minnesota, where the third term strength has rapidly waned since the recent tour through that section by the party's candidate. "I am not familiar with the developments in other western states, although many good reports have come to me at Beverly concerning them, but even with the states already mentioned it can be seen that there is no longer a solid west back of the new party, but more nearly a solid west reunited in support of the Republican ticket. This strength, added to the indisputable hold on the eastern states, constitutes in itself a sufficient strength to give success to the party. "It is scarcely necessary for me to point to the necessity of re-establishing a Republican majority in the house of representatives. If this is done I feel confident that I will be able to have placed on the statute books the workmen's compensation law which I urged upon the last session, but which was sent to oblivion by the Democratic house. If the country will give the Republican party a complete victory in its congressional as well as its presidential ticket a proper tariff revision will be speedily effected, with knowledge of the facts ascertained by a tariff commission, which will harm no one and remove its present defects."

"What is your attitude, Mr. President, on the woman suffrage question?"

"Suffrage for women is an issue to be decided by the states, and there can be no doubt whatever that whenever and wherever a majority of women impress upon their fathers, their husbands, sons, brothers and beans that they want to vote they will get the right to vote. "Do you regard the recall of judges, Mr. President, as an issue in this campaign?"

"I regard the maintenance of an independent judiciary as a supreme issue, and I thoroughly agree with the American Bar association that the recall applied to judges would tend to deprive the public of judges of ability, character, high sense of duty and a due regard to enlightened public sentiment and that such a judiciary is absolutely necessary to the existence of a constitutional democracy. "What are your views, Mr. President, in regard to immigration?"

"There are both room and opportunity in the United States for immigrants of wholesome physique, industrious habits and good moral character. I hope that when the Panama canal is opened the tide of immigration from Europe will flow through to the Pacific states, which are very sparsely settled in view of their vast extent and magnificent natural resources. "It is reported, Mr. President, that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has sent out circulars to labor unions attacking your administration as hostile to organized labor."

"I have not seen the circulars you mention, but if the statement is correct Mr. Gompers is as much in error as he was four years ago, when he proposed to deliver the whole labor vote to Mr. Bryan. "I appreciate," added Mr. Taft, "Governor Wilson's courteous and respectful personal attitude toward my office and toward me. As to his statement about my being misled by 'bad advisers,' I wish him and every one to understand that I have been and will continue to the end of my term president of the United States in all that the title implies, that I am responsible for every act of my administration and have no burden to shift on to others."

When President Taft was visiting his brother in New York a few days ago the newspaper reporters called upon him. After a pleasant chat the president made a formal statement of his views on the political situation: "When I declared a few weeks ago that I felt reasonably sure of my own re-election in November and the success of the Republican party I was regarded by some as entirely over-optimistic and unaware of the situation. Today, however, after a number of indications that the Republican party is still the dominant party and that the expected growth of Democratic strength has failed to materialize, my early declaration is shown to be entitled to respect. The Republicans necessarily will have a reduced majority over 1908 because of the presence of three tickets in the field, but the Democratic party will suffer also. The combined strength of the third term party will not be enough to change the ultimate result. "Five or six weeks ago it was asserted generally that the Republican party would secure the vote of the solid east, including all of the New England states, with the exception of Maine and Vermont; that the Democratic party would maintain its hold on the solid south and that the third term party would secure the solid west, leaving only the middle west as debatable ground. Today, with the election still one month away, the Republican party finds itself with a strengthened hold on the solid east, having routed the third term party in Vermont and the Democratic party in Maine. The third term leaders recently conceded that we would pick the state of Utah out of the solid west, and, after conferring with Chairman Hillis and others recently in the west, there is every reason to believe that the Republican party will carry Michigan, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming. Moreover, if the proper kind of a campaign is waged, we will carry Oregon, Kansas and Minnesota, where the third term strength has rapidly waned since the recent tour through that section by the party's candidate.
